

City Jailor Draws $5 Fine For Use Of Abusive Language

Mayor Wooding Imposes Penalty Following Hearing as to Verbal Attack Made in City Sergeant's Office.

Jailor J. P. Brooks further added to his police court laurels this morning when he was fined $5.00 and costs by Mayor Wooding for tending to create a disturbance by the use of abusive language. The abusive language was used last Monday week and was directed at H. G. Clark, a reporter for The Register, and occurred in Sergeant P. H. Boisseau's office.

The latest aberration of the city jailor grew out of the request of Clark for a permit to visit W. E. Cunningham, confined in the jail. Having been refused permission to enter the jail by Jailor Brooks, Clark asked Sergeant Boisseau for a written permission to enter the jail to interview Cunningham. The sergeant immediately acquiesced in this request, seated himself at his desk and was writing the permit when Jailor Brooks entered the office and, sensing the situation, asked the sergeant not to grant the reporter's request, saying, "Sergeant, I want to ask you not to allow Clark to go into the jail. I don't like him and I don't want him in the jail." The reporter replied to this by saying that only malice was behind the jailor's attitude. The question was raised by Sergeant Boisseau as to articles written by the reporter concerning the jailor, the sergeant saying that he understood that Clark had "written up" the jailor a number of times, intimating that thereby he had engendered bitter feeling on the part of the jailor. The reporter admitted that the jailor had been the subject of a number of stories, by no means complimentary, written by him, but that he had written only the truth in regard to Jailor Brooks.

At this the jailor said, "that statement which you (the reporter) have just made is a d—n lie."

Sergeant Boisseau hereupon jumped to the side of the reporter as he thought that the person who had spoken about precipitating a fight and said, "Here, here, now, now, don't you start a fight here."

The reporter disclaimed any intention of starting a fight and said that there was little danger that the jailor would start a fight against Jailor Brooks, since that person was armed with a large calibre pistol.

During the whole affair in the sergeant's office the reporter had been standing in characteristic posture with both hands in his hip pockets. Which gave the jailor the pretext for launching forth into the following:

"You needn't put your hands in your pockets, Clark. I can beat the G-d d—n out of you without trying."

The reporter let it be known that hands in pockets did not necessarily mean a threat to draw a gun, nor did he take exception to the jailor's profane statement that he could beat him up, but contented himself with saying that he had no intention of fighting an armed man and that the fact that he did not fight should not be interpreted to mean that he was afraid of Jailor Brooks.

Several days after this occurrence a warrant was sworn out against Brooks by the reporter for tending to create a disturbance by the use of profane language. The trial was originally set for Saturday, but a continuance was granted at the request of the jailor, who had prisoners to take to Staunton that day.

The reporter's story of the occurrence was corroborated absolutely by Fireman Will Hudgins, who saw the whole affair, in part by Sergeant Boisseau. Jailor Brooks in his statement said that the reporter had told a "straight story" throughout with the exception of one or two errors.

An interesting feature of the trial was the cross-questioning of the reporter by Jailor Brooks. In this cross-questioning the jailor had a "past" and was now being sought for some (unmentioned, maybe unmentionable) crime by the sheriff of Green-wood county, S. C.

When all of the testimony was in except that of Brooks, the mayor, thinking that the jailor did not wish to say anything, announced a fine of $5.00 and cost. Jailor Brooks interrupted at this juncture and said he gave his version of the occurrence, which differed in no essential details from that told by Clark, except as regards the hands-in-pocket incident.

In his statement Jailor Brooks asserted in emphatic manner that under the law he had sole authority to allow anyone to enter the jail; that he could keep out anybody that he did not want to enter the jail, even officers of the law. This, of course, would mean that Sergeant Boisseau would require to grant the reporter's request to enter the jail. This, despite the fact that the jailor serves under Boisseau as superior officer.

Then Mayor Wooding announced the fine of $5.00 and cost. In the same way the jailor pitched two dollar bills on Sergeant Perkins' desk and said, "Give me the change later," and hurried from the room. It was feared that he had hurriedly left the court to precipitate an angry fight with the reporter, but nothing of the kind happened.

Shuford Killing Still A Mystery

Authorities Still Puzzled Over Gastonia Man's Murder.

GASTONIA, Mar. 27.—There were no new developments today in the case of the death of Harry Shuford, whose body was found in his room at the Carroll hotel Saturday morning, dead either by his own hand or at the hands of unknown party or parties. The sheriff and other officials spent the greater part of the day Sunday in examining the surroundings of the room and hotel and questioning inhabitants of the village. No new evidence was discovered, neither was any additional light thrown on the mystery as the result of their investigations.

A test was made as to the range of the sound of the .25 calibre Colt automatic pistol with which Shuford was shot. Police Officer Payne, of Bessemer City, muffled the pistol in a heavy blanket and discharged it into a block of wood held close in the room where Shuford's body was found. Officers in the next room declared that if they had not been listening for the report, it would have been heard. There were no powder burns on the block of wood, said the officers, who declared that the kind of explosive used in the .25 bullet of a Colt automatic did not leave powder burns such as are left from ordinary black powder.

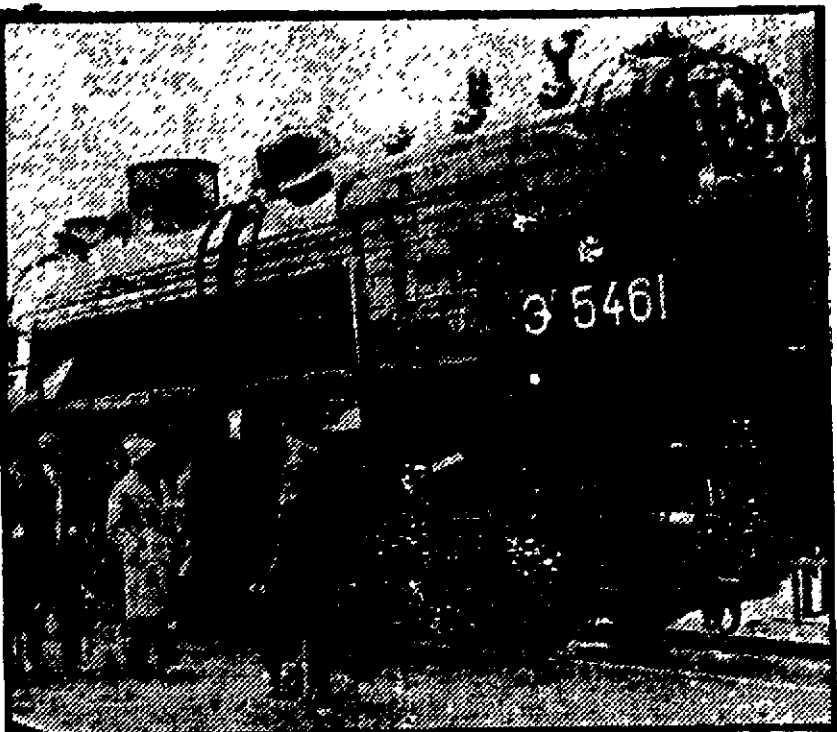

Surgeons and soldiers who served overseas and who were brought in close contact with many gunshot wounds in the line of duty, declared that the .25 calibre pistol held close to the head was sufficient to shatter the skull as Shuford's was found to be. This theory is held by those who believe that the man committed suicide and by those who believe that he was murdered. They point out the fact that there was only one aperture in the skull, and that the larger flesh wound in the scalp may have been caused by the striking apparatus of the pistol when the empty cartridge was thrown out.

Rocky Mount Club House Is Destroyed

ROCKY MOUNT, Va., March 28.—The Rocky Mount Club house, located on West Court street, was entirely destroyed by fire Sunday morning between four and five o'clock. Origin of the fire is unknown. The building was partially covered by insurance. The building was owned by J. F. Mowles, of Rocky Mount. Also the store of Jack Hopkins had the entire front of the building burnt, and had it not been for the entire block of the town fire works the entire block would have been swept out. Lawson Sigmon, a room in a nearby residence, gave the alarm.

Pleads Guilty to Stealing of Booze in Auto

Halifax Youth Throws Himself on Mercy of Court in Unusual Hold Up Near Virgilina.

INDICTMENTS DISPOSED OF.

A long-distance telephone message received this afternoon stated that the indictments involving the theft of liquor had been disposed of. Houston Evans, Belt Chandler, George Clay and Clyde Huckabee, all of South Boston, on pleading guilty, were sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary. They were also fined $50 and given thirty days for transporting liquor. Judge Barksdale suspended the jail terms.

Daniel Clay, who made a frank statement to the court, was given one year in the penitentiary and the court suspended sentence on good behavior. A $50 fine was also imposed on Clay, who is described as a popular South Boston youth.

chines. It was said the four white men represented themselves as officers, and after loading the whisky on their machine made straightway for South Boston.

Finally the two strangers reached town and it was not long before the affair reached the ears of the officers. The whole matter was soon straightened out and it was learned that the two men who were driving the Ford sedan were from Atlanta, Ga. They gave their names as Walter Robinson and Harry Levine. Their destination was not ascertained. Seeing that officers knew much about the affair Levine and Robinson proceeded to relate the whole story. They told of being stuck in the mud and of Chandler's appearance and offer to help and his return shortly with four other men who held them up with guns and took the entire load of liquor, which, it is said, they valued at $5,000.

The five youths are said to have carried the liquor to different points and to have disposed of most of it very quickly. A small quantity of it has been recovered, however.

Robinson and Levine, from whom the liquor is alleged to have been stolen, will not be prosecuted. They are commonwealth witnesses and as such have been granted immunity.

Charlottesville Minister Conducting Revival

Despite the rain and other hindering causes, a good congregation assembled at Calvary Methodist church last evening. A live and spirited service was conducted by Mr. Douglas, of Schoolfield. The congregation soon caught the spirit of the meeting and joined with him in singing the old gospel songs. One of the helpful and enjoyable features of the meeting was a solo rendered by Mrs. E. G. Rogers. Rev. H. P. Myers, of Charlottesville, was introduced to the congregation by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Allen. He at once impressed the audience with a spirit of directness. His message was based on the first chapter and eighth verse of the Acts of the Apostles: "Ye shall receive power." He spoke of the need of power and emphasized the necessity of it in effective Christian service. He made a fine impression on his audience. The services will begin this evening at 7:45. Mr. Wilson, of Portsmouth, Va., will sing at the evening service.

China Missionary to Make Lectures

Beginning tonight, Rev. Mrs. Mattie E. Varden, a missionary who has just returned from China, will preach four nights at the Calvary Methodist church, just beyond Union Hill. An interesting lecture is assured those who attend the services on tonight, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Her speeches will deal with her work in China.

John E. Hughes Dies After Long Illness

Widely Known Leaf Dealer Succumbs at General Hospital—Funeral from the First Presbyterian Church Tomorrow.

John Edward Hughes, one of the most successful business men produced by Pittsylvania county in recent years, and a widely known figure in the leaf tobacco world, died at the General Hospital at 8:35 o'clock last night. He had been hovering between life and death since last Friday, when a second stroke of paralysis came upon him suddenly. Since that time he had lain unconscious, at times buoyed up by the administration of oxygen in the hope that he might outlive the seizure. No improvement was seen, however, and he remained thus with waning power, circulation kept alive by his own vitality, which slowly ebbed and finally flickered out.

All of Mr. Hughes' close relatives were with him at the end. His two

Board Will Be Asked To Express Itself On Plan

It is expected that the Board of Directors of the Danville Warehouse Corporation will be called to meet at an early date for the purpose of securing an expression regarding the proposed meeting at South Boston on April 5th, when concrete proposals are expected to be made by the Co-operative Marketing Association relative to the securing of warehouse property during the coming season. The Young Men's Business Club has decided to take no action on the new sales method before it is more fully advised and it is understood that letters are going forward from the organization to other officials of the organization asking for additional light on certain phases of the plan. The committee is said to have been anxious to join in sending a committee of representatives there do last Wednesday to Kentucky to see how the pooling idea worked out there, but lack of funds has prevented this being done. Conflicting reports are being received daily on the success of the co-operative selling in the Burley field, some saying that it has been a success and has brought with it an increased price of the product, others claiming that it has not been a success, and that the farmers are dissatisfied.

Reports were received here today from Winston-Salem to the effect that the warehousemen there do not intend to sell or lease any of the warehouses, which are to be operated on the auction system next year.

Arrest Negro On Charge Of Larceny

Several warrants against Herman Waddill, a negro, were called in the mayor's court this morning but the case was continued until Wednesday, April 5th. He is charged with housebreaking, robbery, larceny and with shooting a negro some time ago, for which charge he never was arrested. Waddill has only recently completed serving a twelve months' term for store-breaking.

The negro was placed under arrest early yesterday morning by Police Officer O. T. Cook, after the policeman had heard several pistol shots and had seen Waddill coming from in that direction. In the meantime Detective J. N. Campbell was investigating a reported robbery at the home of Harry Bowman. A telephone call had been received at police headquarters reporting that the Bowman home had been broken into and a watch taken from the trousers pockets of Mr. Bowman. Campbell went to the scene, and after making an investigation started back on his way back to the station. On arriving at the court-house he found that the Waddill negro had been arrested as a suspect in the shooting case. Having been arrested in the vicinity of the Bowman home the negro was questioned closely and finally acknowledged to breaking into the house and stealing the watch, which was found in his pocket.

Besides the robbery charge, the negro must first trial for the larceny of a razor. He has also been wanted for shooting Herbert Spencer, also colored, but has managed to evade the police until yesterday morning. All of the charges will come up April 5th.

Wilson Declines To Discuss Issues

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, March 28.—Woodrow Wilson has declined to discuss current political issues in response to an invitation sent by Palmer D. Edmunds, past commander of the local post of the American Legion. His reply, however, states that "We shall very soon indeed wipe away the ugly record made in failing to fulfill objects for which our gallant men fought."

Unusual Effect In Display Front

The show window of McFall's Drug Store, on Main street, affords a unique and attractive sight, the vision being created solely by moth balls being placed in the window as an advertisement. It should not be believed that the moth balls were placed there for the purpose of which it did achieve.

On the inside of the large glass are sheets of frost-like substance about the size of large snowflakes and have the identical appearance of glittering flakes. The thin covering of this flimsy substance is beginning to peel off and is falling from the pane of glass, affording a beautiful sight because of its natural and real snow-like appearance. This peculiar sight, it is said, was created by vapor rising from the moth balls on the recent rainy spring days and crystallized when the rain came yesterday. No other reason can be given. The sheets of the icy-looking substance is fast falling down now.

League of Nations Issues Warning as Disease Penetrates the Ukraine.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The danger to eastern Europe from epidemic typhus, which is rapidly becoming serious, according to a report compiled by the League of Nations health committee. Basing its conclusion upon information gathered from many reliable sources, the committee declared the entire frontier zone between Soviet Russia and the Ukraine on one hand and central Europe on the other is less prepared to withstand the shock of epidemics than for several years. The committee predicts culmination of the situation when the famine reaches its crisis, probably in April. The threat of disease to eastern Europe was said to be due to the tremendous waves of migration caused by the flight of peasants from famine-stricken areas toward districts where food production is possible and to mass repatriation of hundreds of thousands of Poles and others dislocated from their homes during the great retraction of 1915.

The greatly increased repatriation was said to have resulted in a break in the Polish sanitary cordon. The famine is now known to have spread into the most fertile district of the Ukraine, to which it is alleged, the refugees from the northern provinces had fled. The Polish government, in an effort to meet these difficulties, has named a former prime minister as special repatriation commissioner, while the city of Warsaw has appointed an extraordinary commission to deal with the epidemic commission of the League of Nations also is co-operating.

Three Are Held On Shoplifting Charge

Police Officer Towell yesterday placed under arrest three negroes whom he charged with shoplifting in Gilmer's store on Main street. They are charged with stealing two dresses valued at $30. When they were taken into custody, it is alleged, the articles were found in a handbag unwrapped. An employee of the store, having suspected the negroes of stealing before, saw them in there yesterday and immediately sent out on the street and called in "Yallah" who made the arrests. Those arrested were Annie Lee, Sis Lee and Gertrude Dillard. Ethel Giles is also detained in connection with the thefts. The other three charged that the lady woman had taken the dresses and put them in the handbag already in it but this the latter denies. The case was called for trial this morning but a continuance was granted until tomorrow.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. "Do not let her overstudy."

If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in safety.

Y. M. B. C. In Open Letter To Farmers

The executive committee of the Young Men's Business Club met yesterday afternoon and took up the cooperative marketing question as pertaining to the farmers and the business interests of Danville. The Y. M. B. C. wanted to disassemble any idea that the public-at-large were against the farmers and to this end a sub-committee drafted a letter to the farmers in which they stated the various business interests of the city "are willing to put their shoulders to the wheel for anything that is to the best interest of the community."

The letter to the farmers follows: To our Farmer Friends: At a meeting of the executive committee of the Young Men's Business Club of Danville held yesterday it was suggested that our friends in the country were very much interested in knowing how the citizenship and business interests of Danville felt toward the Co-Operative Marketing Association and their plans.

It has been reported that the citizens of Danville and the business interests are not in sympathy with the movement. It is a fact that the executive committee of the Young Men's Business Club have made a thorough survey of such interests and find each and every one willing to put their shoulders to the wheel for anything that is to the best interest of our country friends, but we find many that are unwilling to express themselves on this subject until they become more thoroughly acquainted with the facts in the case.

The Young Men's Business Club and the business interests in general are really interested in your enterprise. We are thoroughly investigating and attentively giving notice to all of your undertakings. We are seeking for information regarding what is best for your interests in best four ours and, to this end have recently been in session with Mr. Tucker Watkins, director of warehouses and Secretary of the National Association of Wholesalers, who will be held in the near future and after this conference with these gentlemen we hope to be able to acquaint our citizenship with such information as they are seeking.

You will readily realize that there are two interests to be served, those who wish at this time to pool their tobacco and those who do not and the citizenship of Danville does not wish through any means to act on their part to injure one or the other.

We are making as thorough an investigation as is possible and are only too glad to have all phases of this question brought to our attention so that the only the closest cooperation may be the result.

We, representing this organization in the city of Danville wish to say to you that if we can be of any assistance to you at this or any other time we are at your service.

Respectfully,
R. R. MURRAY, Ex. Sec.,
Executive Committee Young Men's Business Club.

GOOD SHOW AT THE BROADWAY

"A Prince There Was," a new Paramount picture, starring Thomas Meighan, proved to be exceptionally clever on its first showing at the Broadway yesterday. The story is a good one and the characterizations by Mr. Meighan and Mildred Harris, his leading woman, were unusually artistic.

Prince Irma's quartet, "The Mecca Four," sang enthusiastically received at every appearance yesterday. They will continue at the Broadway all the week, making a complete change of songs on Wednesday and Friday and also sing any request numbers that may be left at the box office. "The Mecca Four," sings at 2:30, 7:00 and 8:30 performances only.

Teachers To Meet Here This Week

The Teachers' Association of District 12 will convene in Danville Friday evening, March 31, and continue through Saturday. A number of prominent educators of Virginia and North Carolina will attend the meeting and will make addresses. Among these will be Harris Hart, Richmond, State superintendent of education; Dr. Linderman, president of Greensboro College for Women; Dr. W. J. Young, Harrisonburg Normal; Dr. S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond College; Dr. J. P. McConnell, Radford Normal; Dr. K. J. Hoke, William and Mary College.

District 12 is composed of seven counties, as follows: Pittsylvania, Charlotte, Halifax, Franklin, Mecklenburg, Henry and Patrick, and the city of Danville.

An interesting program has been arranged for this meeting of the District Teachers' Association, of which Superintendent S. B. Hall, of this city is president.

On Friday night Harris Hart will make an address at the High school auditorium and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this meeting.

It is expected that several hundred teachers will attend the sessions here Friday and Saturday. Many of the school boards of the counties are requesting the teachers to attend, paying them full time for attendance. The other county school boards are strongly urging the teachers to attend.

STATE INCOME TAX RETURNS

Commissioner of Revenue Now Engaged in Making Them Up

The Commissioner of the Revenue is now making his returns, taking tax list for the year 1922 and numerous tax payers are coming into the office to make their returns.

Commissioner Ragland said yesterday that it would greatly facilitate the business of his office if they would come in as usual, stating that the office is the best place to do this as the old list can be more easily corrected.

The commissioner also would be under many obligations to persons, firms and companies if they would prepare themselves and be ready to make up their accounts when called to the attention of the assembly of Virginia at its session of 1923, just closed, have amended the tax law with regard to Class 1, List C, which takes in bonds, notes and evidences of debt.

The old law required the listing in detail of all this class of property owned by the taxpayer and allowed credit for all such items owned by the taxpayer, and this item carried a tax rate of $1.10 per hundred, but allows no credits for indebtedness of like character. Tax payers are urged to mail in all bonds, notes and evidences of debt owned by them as of February 1st, 1922, as the new law provides a penalty of double taxation and outlaws the bond or note in any action at law for its recovery, if it is not properly listed for taxation.

YEARLY REPORT OF P. T. ASS'N

The yearly report of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Stonewall Jackson school was presented and contains many facts of interest to the members and those interested in school work in this city. This particular organization has accomplished many things during the past year and has grown in membership and achievement. The report follows:

The Parent-Teacher Association of Stonewall Jackson school was organized February 11, 1921, with 67 members. At this meeting the following officers were elected: Mrs. M. O. Nelson, president; Mrs. V. G. Smith, first vice-president; Mrs. M. E. Johnson, second vice-president; Mrs. W. T. Walton, secretary; Mrs. W. W. Boisseau, treasurer.

There were ten meetings during the year, the last of which was held in the auditorium of Stonewall Jackson school.

We had an average attendance of 55 members. The amount collected during the year was $442.53. This amount was obtained from dues, donations, concerts and booths at celebrations during the year. We have spent $405.23; this amount being expended partly for athletics.

The association furnished all equipment for a basketball court, which is on Stonewall Jackson school grounds, also purchased a football. We have installed in this school a most modern cafeteria, at which teachers and children are served hot lunches daily at a very small cost.

We are indeed proud of this undertaking and invite inspection at any time. We have at present 136 members. We feel that we have accomplished no little in the way of membership, finances and work, but feel doubly repaid, when we see the harmonious spirit of co-operation which exists between parents, teachers and children.

TUBERCULAR CLINIC HELD

The tubercular clinics held yesterday afternoon and last night were well attended and much interest was manifested. Dr. H. R. Edwards, a specialist in this line employed by the State board of health, is here in charge of the work.

Clinics were held yesterday afternoon at the Wesley house, where over two hours were taken up in making examinations. Twelve persons were examined. Last night at the Good Will Center, on the corner of Henry and Claiborne streets, over 30 persons attended, of which probably half were examined. A great deal of interest is being manifested in the clinics, as was evidenced by the large attendance on yesterday. They will be continued all this week, being held again this afternoon at the Good Will Center and tonight at the Wesley house.

EDUCATIONAL WORK OF CLUB IS TAKEN UP

The development and employment committee held a special meeting last evening in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce. This meeting was called for the purpose of outlining definite plans of the club's educational work.

The committee has been very fortunate in securing the service of Wm. R. Meyer, of Georgia Tech, who will instruct the classes in salesmanship, business, English and letter writing. Other courses offered by the club will be taught by well known business and professional men of the city.

All members of the Young Men's Business Club who are interested in taking one or more of these courses are requested to meet in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce, Thursday evening, March 29, at 8:00 o'clock.

This committee also proposes to bring about the establishment of a first class commercial college in Danville, some time between now and fall.

LEGION NAMES 2 COMMITTEES

The executive committee of the American Legion, Danville post, met yesterday afternoon and appointed two committees, one to investigate the dropping of Policeman G. M. Ewing from the Danville police force, and the other to co-operate with the Wednesday Afternoon Club in the matter of inviting Viscountess Astor to visit this city.

It was the sense of the meeting that no action should be taken in the Ewing matter until more information could be obtained.

In regard to inviting Lady Astor it was learned that the Wednesday Afternoon Club had taken action some time ago, a letter already having been written to the viscountess inviting her to come to Danville. The committee appointed by the executive committee of the American Legion yesterday will co-operate with the Wednesday Afternoon Club in pressing the invitation.

Two Plants Are Interlocked In One Big Property

GORGAS, Ala., March 27.—Disposing of the government owned Gorgas-Warrior Steam plant here constitutes the one puzzling question claiming the attention of committees of Congress who are inspecting government power and nitrate projects at Muscle Shoals and Gorgas, committee-men said tonight.

The day was spent at the Gorgas plant where every phase of the government's holding were studied in relation to the property of the Alabama Power Company.

Division of sentiment was expressed by members of the two committees, Senate and House, as to means of disposing of Gorgas but there appeared to prevail, from expressions of committee-men, a general idea that the plants of the government and the power company were so interlocked physically as to be inseparable.

Chairman Norris of the Senate agriculture committee expressed the opinion that the government's holding could not be separated from the power company's plant and that it seemed necessary to take both or let the corporation have the government's property here.

Representative Hull, of the House military affairs committee, expressed

19 Demands Of the Mine Workers Are Taken Up Monday

NEW YORK, March 27.—The anthracite miners and operators' subcommittee on wage contract negotiations today abandoned their general discussions of the industry, and got down to the nineteen demands of the workers.

Negotiations of the day were restricted to the second part of demand No. 1, relating to establishment of a scale for operators of mechanical loaders, and demand No. 3, which says:

"In conformity with the thought expressed in the award of the United States anthracite coal commission, we demand that a uniform wage schedule be established so that the various occupations of like character at the several collieries shall command the same wages."

The miners restricted the discussion to representation of a vast array of statistics as evidence in support of their demands. James Gorman, secretary of the board and a non-voting member of the secret conferences, announced at the close of their session that "the miners will continue presentation of their case tomorrow."

The chief demand of the miners and the crux of the anthracite situation—the demand for a 20 per cent increase in wages throughout the industry and a raise of $1 per shift for day laborers—will be broached before the committee late tomorrow or

Wednesday union members of the committee said.

Operators refused to comment on the present status of the negotiations, except to agree with the miners that negotiation of a new contract in time to halt suspension of the anthracite mines April 1 is not in sight.

Ten thousand members of the international seamen's union in the port of New York are awaiting the return of their president, Andrew Furuseth, from Washington tomorrow, to decide whether they will interfere with the proposed importation of British mined soft coal to help break the strike of the bituminous miners, also set for April 1.

Coincidental with the seamen's preparations for action Joseph P. Ryan, vice president of the international longshoremen's union said today that its 75,000 members intended "to render every possible assistance to the United Mine Workers."

According to officials of the seamen's union, Mr. Furuseth conferred at Washington today with government officials and chief of the American Federation of Labor, relative to reports that the government considered importation of British coal in the event a protracted strike threatened the nation's fuel supply. In these reports, which Mr. Furuseth is investigating, it was said the administration would permit shipping board vessels to haul coal from Great Britain as ballast.

POLK MILLER'S QUARTET HERE FOR EXPOSITION

Lovers of Polk Miller's quartet in Danville will be delighted to learn that this famous old entertaining quartet will have a place on the program of the Piedmont Exposition.

This quartet is now under the management of Capt. Tony Miller, brother of Polk, and he worthily fills the place of that person.

The tunes and melodies that were played and sung by the old plantation dandies before the war around their cabin doors will make up part of the program of this quartet.

When this troupe of entertainers, appeared recently at Louisville, Ky., it was said of them that the members had more in the way of entertainment than any minstrel show on earth. "The quartet looks like farm hands," but sings like Carusos."

HAVANA OFFICE FOR BOOZE CORPS IS NOW PLANNED

HAVANA, March 27.—The establishment of a bureau in Havana by American prohibition enforcement authorities probably will be recommended by Col. L. C. Nutt, who with six internal revenue agents, arrived in Havana Saturday night. It is said the visit of Colonel Nutt is connected with a proposed drive by the American authorities against alleged shipments from Cuba of liquor and narcotics.

The situation is reported to have been considered in recent conferences between President Zayas and Philander Cable, American charge d'affaires, and Major Gen. E. H. Crowder, and also between Colonel Nutt and the American consul general, C. D. Hurst. On the completion of the study here it is said Colonel Nutt and his aides will visit other islands of the West Indies, particularly the Bahamas.

MISS PALMER SUFFERS PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Miss Elizabeth Palmer, Pinhook, suffered a painful and serious accident Saturday morning when driving a nail into a wall. The nail flew back at a blow of the hammer and struck her in the eye, driving the eyelid into the eyeball. She was brought to Danville yesterday for treatment for examination by a specialist and doubt was expressed as to the saving of the eyesight of the injured orb.

WOMEN SHOULD LEARN TO RELAX IF THEY WOULD STAY YOUNG

WHEN a woman is tired she goes on for just an hour longer. She hides weariness just as she hides pain, and thinks she is clever, said a famous New York beauty expert recently. "If women could only learn the wisdom of resting when they are tired, they could keep their youth so much longer."

Life is no simpler for women since modern inventions relieved them of the many home tasks which their grandmothers knew. Thousands are in business, and of the women in private life, most are interested in club, church, civic or purely social activities, which consume much time and enormous vitality.

Many a woman with a fast-gathering net-work of wrinkles and crow's feet, who has always been thankful that her maker fashioned her of stuff so strong to "form the negligee habit," would do well to get herself a becoming negligee and relax her mind as well as her taut muscles and frayed nerves for half an hour each day.

The newest idea in negligee is a step-in affair, easy to make and easy to don. In a lounging robe like this, of silk, pongee or challis, any sensible woman ought to be able to relax and forget dull care for her so-necessary rejuvenating half hour.

The kimono is a garment which the American women has always liked and it is still deservedly popular for its simplicity and comfort. A short version of the kimono makes a satisfactory combing jacket.

To Try Jarret
For Theft Of Car Tomorrow

Clarence Jarrett of Schoolfield caught red-handed in the act of stealing a Buick automobile belonging to Bob Coleman, is now in jail and will be given a trial in the mayor's court tomorrow. The case was called this morning, but a continuance was granted. The arrest was made yesterday afternoon by Police Officer J. C. Reynolds after the alleged thief had failed in his bid attempt to get out of the jail. Jarrett turned out the switch key when he tried to start the car. The machine however had begun to roll down the hill when the owner saw it and notified the officer who had Jarrett in custody in a few minutes. Jarrett turned out the switch key when he tried to start the car. The machine however had begun to roll down the hill when the owner saw it and notified the officer who had Jarrett in custody in a few minutes. Jarrett turned out the switch key when he tried to start the car. The machine however had begun to roll down the hill when the owner saw it and notified the officer who had Jarrett in custody in a few minutes.

The car was stopped at Coleman's occupation. Nat Williams, came up Jarrett was asked to explain any words passed and then Jarrett drew a knife with which he threatened the two. Officer J. C. Reynolds was notified at once. He found Jarrett in a pool room on lower Main street and placed him under arrest and took him to jail. His brother later approached Chief Bell in regard to bail, but on being appraised that it would be about $1,000 left, and Jarrett is still in jail. Less than ten minutes after the attempted theft took place Jarrett was arrested by Officer Reynolds. It was quick work on the part of the policeman who, incidentally is a member of the Martin faction of the local force, which faction was left out in the cold when glory was being accumulated by members of the Bell faction in the recent car theft probe started where there is not a shadow of doubt that a bona fide and initial car thief was arrested. There have been any number of arrests in the other cases, but it still remains to be proven that the men arrested were theatrical thieves after the fact, which is to say that they received and concealed stolen cars.

EX-KAISER DRINKS WATER.

BERLIN, March 27.—The former Kaiser has been reduced to drinking water with his meals instead of wine owing to the high price of wine. This is the message brought by the former court pastor, Herr Vogel, of Potsdam, following a visit to Doorn. Herr Vogel is now making a propaganda tour of East Prussia, informing the people how miserably the Kaiser lives. He says the decline of the German mark has effected him so that he cannot sleep.

Commenting on the swift departure of the Kaiser from Germany at the end of the war, the pastor says: "That was suicide, and suicide is a form of cowardice."

A new $400,000 high school was recently opened at Bethlehem, Pa. This school, the newest model in modern educational institutions, will house pupils representing more than 40 nationalities.

HAIL, LITHOPOLIS! DEAD MAN
PUTS DEAD TOWN ON MAP!

MISS MAEEL WAGNALLS, O HENR YAND MAP SHOWING LOCATION OF LITHOPOLIS

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW YORK, March 28.—A dead man has put a dead town on the map. This feat has been accomplished through publication of a series of letters written by the late O. Henry, short story writer to Miss Mabel Wagnalls, daughter of the publisher. The collection is called "Letters to Lithopolis."

O. Henry was born in Greensboro, N. C. Miss Wagnalls lives in the old New York made famous by O. Henry, in Gramercy Park not far from Madison Square. But she takes her summer vacations in Lithopolis, Ohio. "It's a real place," she said today, "but don't look for it from any railroad train window. It isn't there."

"Lithopolis stands alone, a little distance from Columbus, maintaining an aloofness, an exclusiveness that is unmatched by any other cluster of frame houses radiating around a one-block trading area of one-story shops. There are 350 inhabitants in Lithopolis. The 208 houses are kept in repair, but a new house is never added. People never move to Lithopolis, but they can't help being born there."

"There are more graves than houses and people." In 1903, when O. Henry was still an unknown quantity, Miss Wagnalls wrote him a letter to find out whether he was related to a branch of her family. She asked if he were man, woman or wraith. He answered—and the reply was forwarded to Miss Wagnalls at Lithopolis.

"Texas cowboy. Lazy. Thought writing stories might be easier than 'busting' bronchos. Came to New York one year ago to earn bread, butter, jam and possibly asparagus that way."

The name Lithopolis appealed to O. Henry. It stimulated his imagination. He began to write about its people.

"The best character in town," Miss Wagnalls says, "was his tombstone lady. When other girls were embroidering monograms on fancy work to be sent to the county fair, she was tracing letters on enduring stone, destined for display upon the hill top. She knew the tombstone business from the ground up and from the surface down."

"She is gone from Lithopolis now—moved somewhere. But the place goes on just the same—except that they call the streets occasionally."

NEW WITICISMS OF THE LATE O. HENRY
Excerpt from "Letters to Lithopolis" written by O. Henry, short story writer, to Miss Mabel Wagnalls and just published by Doubleday, Page & Co.

I have more respect for a man who brands cattle than for one who writes pieces for the printer.

In Texas the folks freeze to you in New York they freeze you.

There ought to be a law governing literature for one-legged veterans and widows with nine children to write. Men ought to have the hard work to do—they ought to read the stuff.

I do not know a concerto or a legato from a potato or tomato but I can recognize a mess.

Before the piano was invented, the piano was a real and convenient in homes where nobody could play it—there is no handy to pile old magazines on.

Civil Term of Court
Will Begun Monday

Clerk of the Court John R. Cook and his deputies are already preparing for the civil term of the Corporation Court which will begin next Monday with Judge D. P. Withers on the bench. There are about 32 old cases and fully as many new ones to be disposed of during the term.

Navy Midgets Doomed

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Hundreds of tugs, yachts and other small craft that took part in laying the barrage across the North Sea and in patrolling the coast during the war, are to be put out of commission permanently. This has been decided by the House Appropriation Sub-Committee now making up the Naval Bill for fiscal year 1923, and will be part of the final scrapping process. Secretary Denby has sold about 200 small craft in the last twelve months. If a ready sale is not found for the remainder they will be greased and tied up.
